Fay & Humphrey's Muse.

Though not yet the smoke of battle
Clears along our Southern sky;
Though the cannon thunders rattle,
And the lightnings flash on high!
And though still our dauntless legions
March to conquer or to die:

Yet for those who stay behind them,
(Ready when their turns shall come,
To oppose, where'er they find them,
All the foe's of Freedom's home;)
Every common need of mortals
Must as ever be supplied—
CLOTHING must be had to shelter
From chill blasts or hot noontide.

Care to please you unabating,
With their olden sign unfurled,
Fay & Humphrey still are waiting,
To supply a coatless world.
Men and boys, whate'er your nation,
Size, complexion, taste, may be,
Come, from every rank and station,
Just YOUR STYLE you quick shall see:
Suits, for Spring and Summer wearing,
Ready-Made, shall please your eye—
You that were just now despairing,
Come to the "PEOPLE'S EXCHANGE" and buy.

Or if still you've not assented,
CUSTOM CLOTHS await your choice,
Every style is represented—
Look! and let your hearts rejoice.
You are pleased? This way—allow me—
Walk up stairs, and in a trice,
They will measure you for what shall
Make you look so very nice,
That your very wife won't know you
Till you've spoken to her twice.

Pause a moment in departing—
Downward glance with questioning air—
Pardon! but that boot is starting—
Just select another pair.
In too varied forms to mention,
Ranged along the gleaming shelves:
BOOTS and SHOES now claim attention—
Let them answer for themselves.
Ladies, by sad visions haunted,
Of a heedless search for boots,
Here, at last, may stand enchanted:
We've some style, at least, that suits
Everybody, maid or matron,
However her choice may fall
Upon shoe, or graceful slipper,
Congress boot, or balmoral.

HATS and CAPS of faultless fashion,
You shall see before you go—
Try that Burnside. That's becoming!
Or this, named for "Fighting Joe,"
"Fighting Joe" who leads our armies,
And will beat them through, you know.

Shirts, and Hose, and Ties, and Collars, Gloves, from buck-skin to white kid:
Rubber Goods for stormy weather,
All a careful notice bid.
Satchels, Cutlery, Umbrellas:
But we cannot tell you all—
Come and see us, every one;
They will surely buy, who call.

The President's Proclamation.

The startling Proclamation of Mr. Lincoln, suspending the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus throughout the whole land in all cases where, by the authority of the President of the United States, any military, naval, or civil officers hold persons under their command or in their custody, is the most monstrous stretch of illegal and ungranted power which the swelling audacity of the Chief Magistrate has yet permitted to himself. Its authority is professed to be derived from an act of Congress, its scope is pretended to be confined to certain specified classes of offences and persons. It is, in fact, an usurpation of ungiven power. It can, in fact, without stretching, cover and shield the grossest outrage upon statute law, upon the Constitution, upon civil rights and personal liberties older than the Constitution, guaranteed by it, but derived from sources higher than any government or any law. And this is not the language of denunciation, it is the simplest phrase of description.

We say nothing now of the fact that every judicial decision ever made in our supreme tribunal holds that the suspension of the writ is a legislative function, not to be delegated, and, except by a Republican Congress, hitherto undelegated; that it cannot be delegated to the executive, nor become in any manner a lawful executive act. Congress has assumed the power of delegation, and Mr. Lincoln has already exercised it. That usurpation is not exclusively his own, and is not new.

There is a law of Congress under which President Lincoln assumes to act. He quotes it, and professes to derive his authority and justification from it. But that act, itself a stretch of authority, has, after all, its own restrictions. It does not confer unlimited power. Mr. Lincoln would make it appear that his conception of "public safety" is the only limit and term which it prescribes to him. Though the first draft is over, its difficulties surmounted, and no new draft announced, Mr. Lincoln alleges the requirement of "public safety," and announces the universal suspension of the writ. But the act which, bearing his own signature, we may be permitted to deem it his duty to execute, has other limitations and requirements, of which he makes no mention. Their mention would have been self-stultification as well as the confession and trumpeting of his usurpation. The second section of this act provides "that the Secretary of War and the Secretary of State be, and they are hereby, directed to furnish to the judges of the circuit and district courts a list of the names of all persons, citizens of states in which the administration of the laws has continued unimpaired in the said federal courts, who are now, or may hereafter be, held as prisoners of the United States, as state or political prisoners, or otherwise than prisoners of war;" and if a grand jury fails to find an indictment or other proceeding against such person, "it shall be the duty of the judge of said court forthwith to make an order that any such person desiring a discharge from said imprisonment be brought before him to be discharged; and every officer of the United States having custody of such prisoner is hereby directed to immediately to obey and execute said judge's order.

Something more, then, than a conviction of what "public safety" requires is demanded by this law under which President Lincoln professes to act. Congress has declared that all arrests, detentions, and imprisonments under this authority and in spite of this suspension shall be promptly made known to the courts of justice, that the accused, and the imprisoned, and the detained shall be liberated, unless presented by a jury, or convicted by a jury in the ancient and righteous way. This act, though suspending one remedial process, one peculiar remedy against unlawful imprisonment, and thereby preventing the enlargement of the accused traitor, or conspirator, or conscript, or deserter, or citizen until after legal trial and acquital, does not justify arrest without warrant, does not justify imprisonment without trial, does not justify a denial of the sacred right of a trial by jury. Yet all these outrages already been heaped upon American citizens; heaped upon the guilty, to whom all of justice is due, heaped upon the innocent, to whom no protection of law should be denied. And we have been mocked from the Capitol with shambling defences of these crimes, whose utter indefensibleness this proclamation now confesses in the very act of covering them with its vain show of authority and its paramount iniquity. That act, whatever its own perilous stretch, did nevertheless demand the removal of every proceeding to the civil courts, where justice yet lingers—did nevertheless demand of the imprisoning powers indictment and conviction for offenses against written and established laws.

It is the operation of these courts in the cases of conscript minors, and of other questionable detentions, operations peaceful, judgments willingly obeyed by the people, sometimes rightfully remanding men to military custody and sometimes restoring them to their homes, and diffusing amongst us a sense of protection and safety within the boundaries and muniments of law, which two years dependence upon mere executive will and pleasure had shaken; it is these operations of justice, in the aggregate the country over depriving our armies of not half a regiment of soldiers, and now almost concluded by the conclusion of the first draft itself, which are the only conceivable cause of this proclamation.

Let speech be tame, and yet answer if this proclamation is not an usurpation of ungranted power.

And we further say that it is an usurpation of such vast and illimitable proportions that it can cover any outrage upon the rights of American citizens. What the administration has done without the shield of this proclamation's authority it is safe to assume that it will not hesitate to do in virtue of its protection. But what is its assigned scope? Whom does it assume and profess to reach? All persons "held by the authority of the President, under the command or in the custody of the military, naval or civil officers of the United States, or any of them, either as prisoners of war, spies, or aiders or abettors of the enemy, or officers, soldiers, or seamen enrolled, drafted, or mustered, or enlisted in, or belonging to, the land or naval forces of the United States, or as deserters therefrom, or otherwise amenable to military law, or to the rules and articles of war, or to the rules and regulations prescribed for the military or naval services by the authority of the President of the United States, or for resisting a draft, or for any offence against the military or naval service.

What offense, real or pretended, will this not cover? What man will this not reach? Whom will this not shut out from the justice dispensed in civil courts? What law is not overridden? Whose life, liberty and property are not suspended upon the executive will and pleasure? Again we say, this is not the language of denunciation. We seek for the simplest terms of description. For in merely the cases arising under the draft (and this is but one small field of operation) does it not preclude any and every inquiry by the courts into the legality of any act of the numerous provost-marshals and their deputies, charged with the enforcement of the conscription! Does it not assume to guarantee the wisdom, moderation, and infallibility of these numerous subordinate officers! We must admit that they are liable to err through ignorance, passion, prejudices or incapacity: does it not deny all redress to persons aggrieved by their wrongs! Thus making the action of the provost-marshals and their deputies final, does it not both declare their judgment infallible and their virtue above temptation?

Suppose a provost-marshal, influenced by motives of party malignity, or from a mistake in personal identity, seizes in his dwelling a man who has never been drafted, and impresses him into the military service. Does not this suspension of the habeas corpus take away from the citizens thus unjustly or mistakenly impressed all power of bringing the fact before a tribunal competent to discharge him? Is every provost-marshal supposed to be so well acquainted with every man in his district that he can never confound one man with another? In the multiplicity of his business is it impossible that he should ever overlook the fact that a drafted man had been exempted for cause, and arrest him by mistake?—And if such mistakes, or any mistakes, are made, can they now be rectified by the impartial and disinterested judges of the courts, whose action would be confined to a simple inquiry into the facts? The denial of redress in merely such cases is a piece of monstrous injustice. A citizen does not need to be a lawyer, he does not need to have bestowed a minute study on the Constitution, to decide that if his rights and liberty are held by this frail tenure, our form of government never deserved the encomiums which admiring statesmen and publicists have been accustomed to bestow upon it.

But this is merely the suggestion of a single class out of many similar cases which may, nay, which must arise under only two words of this proclamation—"soldiers," "enrolled." It is only one drop from a fountain of injustice. Alone and singly it should scald and quicken the public sense.—But it is not drop by drop that Mr. Lincoln has chosen to wear away the foundations of our liberty. He lets loose upon them the whole stream of wrong at once, coupling together such phrases as cover past usurpations and outrages, and grouping such particular descriptions of persons and offenses as are the prediction of new oppressions, as if he would fain let the torrent sweep them and us all together into the sea of anarchy. But Mr. Lincoln has forgotten that the foundations of the rights of American citizens are all that uphold their Chief Magistrate. Conscious of a purpose to wield this illimitable and despotic power, only for the restoration of the Union and the overthrow of its enemies, Mr. Lincoln, however, may have blinded himself to the illegality of its assuption and the extent of its peril. Let it be granted that we are unjust to his intentions in suspecting him of gathering to his grasp powers which he himself must admited might satisfy a Cæsar and suffice to the ambition of a Napoleon. Let it be supposed for one absurd instant that the people of the North, loyal, liberal of life and treasure, are willing to surrender their liberties, their judgments, their freedom of speech and political action to the arbitrary pleasure and unrestrained judgment of a most benevolent and wise Chief Magistrate. Let it be supposed that they can forget what the logic of events and the language authority have alike admonished us of, and still it would remain our duty to warn that Chief Magistrate that not upon his wisdom now are suspended our essential rights and liberties. The power which he has grasped he has also scattered to a thousand weaker hands and weaker brains than his own. Not now the Chief Magistrate alone may be the arbiter of law and life and liberty, but every "military, naval, and civil officer of the United States," in caprice, in foolishness, in revenge, in madness, in partisan passion and hate, may unlock the arsenals of despotic power and shut upon American citizens the gates of the temples of Justice.

Commerce of New York City.

During the six months from the 1st of January last, the total of our exports from this city to foreign ports was $87,793,180: greater by more than twenty-five millions, than it was in 1861 for the same period, and twenty-eight millions more than in 1862. So that in spite of the war our industrial products for export have actually increased in value and in amount, so far as the business of this port is an indication of its increase. We have also during the fiscal year ending June 30th last, parted with $52,000,000 in specie and bullion, against $29,000,000 in 1862; and yet its price has rapidly declined to a comparatively low figure, and it is estimated that we have actually among us, in the banks and in private hands, more than five hundred millions, which on the resumption of specie payments will come into sights and enter into circulation.

Two-thirds of the increase is derived from the domestic produce of the Atlantic States. The total value of imported goods for the year ending June 30th, is $180,000,000—the total value of exported domestic produce for the year being $185,722,000.

A Mob in which no Democrat took Part.

Irishmen, Germans, and other foreigners, were shot down by whole-sale in the streets of Philadelphia, to gratify religious and political hatred by Abolition K. N. cabinet; "in all these infernal mobs there was not one Democrat—not one!"—Crescent.

When could this have been? We are at a loss to know, for fear we might otherwise fail to give due credit to the Democratic nominations for If their lies have a run especially one of the brutal, cowardly, ruffianly —to a word, Democratic—of any where in this country, within the last decade, that was not the exclusive property of that interesting party, the fact ought to have the widest and most immediate publicity.—Appleton Motor.

We can remind you of a mob—almost at your own threshold that no Democrat took part in, and still, we'll wager all you dare ante that you'll not give it publicity. You recollect the Ripon affair, when three hundred Abolitionists mobbed a United States officer in the sworn discharge of his duty, and declared that he should never take Booth out of that town, and the officer had to run for his life. Will you or this fact avow?

Then there was a strictly Republican mob in Milwaukee, when Glover was taken from the custody of the law by force, and no man will say a Democrat ever gave countenance to that mob in any manner. Please give this the "widest and most immediate publicity." Then it is but a short time since that the Republicans in Green county got to mobbing peaceful and loyal citizens, riding them on rails, and maltreating them in the most indecent manner, until Gov. Salomon was obliged to interfere. Will you pretend that any Democrats aided in that mob? Will you pretend that Democrats mob Democrats? No sir, it was of the "brutal" Republican sort—exclusively a dish of their own damnation. Dare you give this publicity? Then remember the mobbing and murdering of poor Bellinger, but a day or two since, by Abolition soldiers, under circumstances the most heart-rending and "brutal."

We could fill our columns to surfeit with glaring cases of this kind and its kindred atrocities—where mobs—exclusively of Republican Abolition material—have defied the laws and outraged decency, and yet neither the Motor or any of its co-adjutors ever did or ever will denounce these atrocities, simply because men who vote the Republican ticket committed them. Away with your hypocritical cant about exclusive Democratic mobs.—Patriot.

"We all of us should be ready to make sacraments," said Mrs. Partington, solemnly, as she heard that a neighbor's son had been drafted; "if I had a hundred sons I should be willing that every one of 'em should be 'exempt.' What a patriotic glow her cheek assumed! How her eyes flash through her glasses! What meaning there was in her tene! But like who knew the dictionary signification of the word "exempt" laughed.

"Why are the hoops like obstinate men? Because they often stand out about trifles." [Somebody unknown to us perpetrates the above.]

From the Country Gentleman and Cultivator.

"Japanese Husbandry."

By John G. Webb.

Liebig, in his recent work, "The Natural Laws of Husbandry," quotes approvingly from the pen of an enthusiastic protege of his, who has traveled in Japan, an article with the above title. The whole article would, I should suppose, interest your readers much, though its immodest—not to say indecent—way of expressing certain facts, would require considerable editorial scissoring. It is long, however, and so entirely Liebig in its views, and so much a matter of special pleading, that perhaps the writer of this may make a brief resume of its contents, more useful than the whole article would be.

Japan, socially politically considered, is like England, only more so, an aristocracy. The soil belongs to a few great aristocrats, the Damaios, one of whom, it will be fresh in the minds of all our readers, Sitsima, was traveling on the highway, surrounded by his attendants and retinue, and was met by an English merchant, Mr. Richerdson. Whether the latter failed in some form of etiquette, or whether his foreign presence was the cause, we know not; but he was set upon and murdered by the Japanese aristocrat's servants.—England demanded the murderers; $500,000 instead were offered, and war was likely to grow out of the affair.

But we have only alluded to this to know how great and mighty these chiefs of the nobility are. Below them is another class of nobles to whom the soil is farmed out, and by these in turn it is leased to the cultivators in little plots of from two to five acres. The leases are perpetual, are paid for in produce, and not in cash, and we will not be surprised to learn that their possessors, who belong as much to the soil as the soil does to them, rank in the lowest caste of the people. Liebig's admirer calls them "husbandmen:" we should call them serfs.

It should be premised that the climate of Japan is unsurpassed in the world. In latitude it stretches from the 30th to the 45th parallel of north latitude—say from New Orleans to St. Paul—but owing to the mountainous structure of the country, you have but to ascend from the valley, where the yam, rice and cotton flourish, to find the palm growing in juxtaposition with the northern pine.

"Hundreds of foot-paths and small ravines, lead to charming transitions between pine and cotton, hill and dale: everywhere there is a gay medley of laurels and myrtles, cypresses, and above all, shining camelias."

The writer, no doubt, speaks more particularly of the southern parts of Japan. In religion the people are Buddhists, and do not eat meat, nor even milk, butter, nor cheese, though fish are consumed. Sheep are not raised for wool. Horses, we suppose, must be to a limited extent, used by the nobility for the road, but not as beasts of burden on the farm; all of his labor is performed by hand. Herein lies the essential difference between the husbandry of Europe and the husbandry of Japan. Grass forms the corner stone of the one: grass is only a weed to the other. We feed to form flesh, and know that the subsidiary manure will renew, or even improve the fertility of our soil. In short, we raise fodder to form flesh and milk; and flesh and milk to form fodder. Your Japanese husbandman has none of these—no fodder, no flesh, and no manure. He burns his straw and scatters the ashes on his plots; and as for manure, of course he has only one source to supply for that, and we are told that source is watched with the most jealous care. Think of suitable vessels provided in the road near every homestead, with written requests that they should be used for the benefit of the one who placed them there!

"I need not mention," naively remarks the writer, "that the manure thus left by benevolent travellers is treated in exactly the same way as the family manure." Think of wagons or boats, or trains coolies, going down to the New-York of Japan, loaded with the destined food of their inhabitants, and then returning laden with buckets of human excrement, fresh and entire, for it is never dried or manufactured into any sort of poudrette. Think of these caravans performing their journeys morning and evening, with the regularity of the post, and even—a little care being taken to transport only the solid portions—of their journeys extending 200 or 300 miles. Then estimate the value which the Japanese places upon the only animal manure within his reach.

The Greenfield Gazette says "there is a field of tobacco in Hartfield meadow for which—that is for the tobacco on it—the owner has been offered forty thousand dollars by a New York speculator."

A visitor to the battle field of Gettysburg says that the ground occupied by our forces is literally strewn with unexploded rebel shells, while along the the Confederate fortifications very few can be found. It is said that one-sixth of the shells thrown by the rebels exploded.

Hon. Green C. Bronson, formerly a distinguished New York politician, died at Saratoga, Sept. 4th.

An Iron-Clad in a Gale.

The Boston Transcript has a letter written on board the iron-clad steamer Lehigh, describing the passage of that monitor from New York to Charleston harbor, during which a severe gale was experienced. Of the effect of the storm upon the Lehigh, the writer says:

"During this time the Lehigh had had been straining and bumping her overhang upon the seas at a fearful rate, making sleep impossible. So rapid was the motion—so heavy and continuous the shocks of the projecting snout and overhang, that all became alarmed for the safety of the ship. The solid shot beneath our berth deck were rolling about adrift, efforts to check them being of no avail. Officers and men thronged the upper turret deck: anxious glances were cast upon the rubber raft, which was inflated in readiness for use: life-preservers and bread and water were sought for, and the fate of the gallant crew of the first monitor canvassed.

About this time a heavy sea covered the deck from the bow to the turret with a solid mass of water, lifted our ship's bell bodily out of its socket, some six inches deep, and bore it off like a chip overboard. The bell and fittings must have weighed about 300 lbs, and were fastened to the turret seven feet above the deck.

The waves were sharp-topped combers, and repeatedly broke over the top of the elevator, twelve feet high. They broke over the turret top, flooding the engine room beneath.

We were now heading the sea, our officers on the front part of the turret deck holding on to stanchions to prevent being washed overboard; the men occupying the after part. Our ship would seemingly crawl up the face of a big sea, like a cat crawling (the sensation of crawling upward was prominent) up the steep roof of a house to the ridge-pole, and reach its summit, and look below and hesitate whether to descend upon the other side or fall back, and descending, would seem to be diving to the bottom. With bated breath we waited, saw the ship's iron snout thrust into the second wave, take on deck much water, but yet rise as before, and again descending take the greater part of the third and greatest wave upon its deck, not being able to rise quick enough to surmount it; and thus at every moment gaining greater confidence in our noble, though heavy and uncouth, iron-clad vessel, though still fearing that some of the powerful seas, as we fell upon them, would force up our overhang, and once starting it, sweep in a moment our whole iron deck from the hull.

The German Citizens will not Vote for Lewis.

There is one universal sentiment of disatisfaction expressed by the German citizens of this State. They know the Germans were slighted by the gang of swindling Know-Nothing and "Secret Leaguevites" who met in Madison. It is now openly declared, even by delegates in that Convention, that Governor Salomon received the majority fairly, but was cheated out of the nomination by the swindling tricks of the politicians who hope to use Lewis for their own selfish ends.

The following "Card" will explain the feeling among the Germans here. It fairly reflects the sentiments of all honorable Germans:

CARD.

We, the undersigned, German citizens of Prairie du Chien, knowing that the "Republican-Union"-Know-Nothing Convention, held at Madison, trotted the German interests of this State shamefully, and believing J. T. Lewis, its candidate for Governor, obtained the nomination through FRAUD, we hereby declare our determination not to vote for or support him:

C. Kahler,	C. Hellbeck,
H. F. Wellcke,	C. Hunsinger,
H. Sieghert,	M. Kolb,
J. G. Gelsleipher,	F. Goeller,
M. Schweizer,	Paul Wertz,
F. Raffauf,	F. Kaltmeisler,
M. Friedrich,	A. Strenske,
Chas. Woldmer,	J. Rose,
J. Rolfauf,	Chris. Keck,
F. Unger,	J. Amos,
C. Koch,	and others.

All the influential Germans in this part of the Country, including such men as Otto Georgie, M. Menges, Schumann, S. Rosenbaum, Kappel, Dr. Brunner, Otto, and all others who know the facts connected with the last Swindling Know-Nothing Convention at Madison, refuse openly to have any thing to do with it or its ticket.

The intelligent Germans of this State are not to be swindled by Know-Nothing demagogues with impunity.

A PROPER CANDIDATE.—Wyman Spooner, the abolition candidate for Lieutenant Governor of Wisconsin, is the most proper man in the State for that position. He is a full blooded Vermont abolitionist, and ran away from that State to cheat his creditors of their honest dues, many years ago. He owes a small debt to a gentleman in this city, and, a few years ago, this gentleman met him in Wisconsin and he promised to pay it but hadn't the money with him then. This little claim was sent to Spooner the ensuing winter, at Madison (he then being a member of the Legislature) and, on its being presented to him, he denied his promise and refused to pay it, saying that "he didn't owe Vermont anything." He is a very proper candidate for the black republican party—a dishonest runaway Vermont abolition swindler. —Rock Island Argus.

The Habeas Corpus.

A very interesting article will be found on our first page from the N. Y. World, treating of this subject. The Writ of Habeas Corpus has always been considered, by the Statesmen of every age and nation, as the great shield for the personal liberty of the Citizen. The people of England fought years and years for this glorious boon, and will not, under any circumstances, no matter how weighty, allow this sacred instrument to be infringed upon. Next to the Constitution it is the most important document in this Country—it goes hand in hand with that great Chart. It was reserved for a Republican Administration to strike down that grand palladium of a free people. At a time when our arms have been crowned with glorious victory throughout our armies; at a time when the rebellious hordes have been driven into closer quarters than at any period since the War begun; at a time when our Prime Minister (Mr. Seward) tells our foreign plenipotentiaries that "the Rebellion is practically crushed:" at a time when the Conscription has been made in the principal States: at a time when no internal discords jar the public body from the non-rebellious States—the President assumes the non-delegated power and suspends, throughout the whole land, this sacred instrument! Surely, is it not time to ask ourselves—"Whither are we drifting"?

Where's the Difference!

The citizens of Leavenworth, Wyandotte, Olathe, Paola and Osawatamie are under arms, as they have no confidence in the military in enforcing the order re-establishing martial law, and they have demanded the removal of Gen. Schofield, Ewing and others, and have also resolved never to lay down their arms until the Government shall have acceded to their demands and place reliable Union men in their stead.—Ripon Record.

Considering the recent denunciations that have been poured upon the heads of the Democracy, charging them with intended violations of the laws, this, from an abolition organ, is pretty rich! As we have heretofore stated, Schofield, Ewing & Co., are Republicans, and the special saints of Abraham Rex. Now, we would like our Ripon cotemporary to inform us wherein the Kansas Abolitionists differ from the Southern rebels. The one has been and is now in field against the authority of the Government—the other has "resolved never to lay down their arms until the Gov't shall have acceded to their demands"! Had the rebels been given a free permit to do as they desired, no war would now be raging. Out upon Republican hypocrisy.

We have enjoyed the pleasure of a friendly call this week from that unterrified Democrat of Democratic Brown County, Mr. Xavier Martin. He brings us further good tidings from the gallant old North District. The Democracy there have organized as they have never done before, and will do such work this fall as shall prove to the people of the State, that they have not proved traitors to the teachings and principles of the time honored Democracy.

Republican Senatorial Nominations.

According to the most reliable information we have been able to receive from unquestionable authority, the Reps. had a rich, tight time at Oconto, in making their nomination. Outagamie's six delegates met Oconto, Shawano, and Door County's six with blood in their eyes. Mr. Myers was of course our men's choice and "My Lord Palmerston," Mr. Harris, of the Door Co. Advocate, the victim of t'other crowd. After balloting and wrangling about a day and a night to no effect, Ginty proposed to settle it by a game of euchre with our Post Master, but he being a moral man couldn't "see it,"—especially as that was Ginty's "best holt." So we believe they ended the matter by pulling straws and Harris' men pulled the longest straw, and he was declared the unanimous! nominee of the convention. To mollify the feelings of our delegates, Ginty had a pail or pails of Beer brought in and after taking a drink all around to test its quality, some one slipped into it a tremendous quantity of Ipecac, and again, and again they drank, and finally retired to the hotel to rest. But the rest may be imagined, it is sufficient to say that the hotel was bespattered from attic to cellar with the result. Sea-sickness wasn't a circumstance. Of course, as our informant states, our delegates didn't get any of the vile stuff! This was the grand ratification, we presume!

Well, Mr. Myers, a gentleman of talent and ability, respected by all parties, has again been set aside to make way for a man entirely inferior to Mr. Myers in every respect. Put up and gambled away as trading stock! Whew, how his friends feel about it here. Mr. Harris will be permitted to remain at home to write his big leaders thundering at "My Lord Palmerston," which seems to be his peculiar forte.

Political Capital.

The Milwaukie News sees a chance for political capital, in this (the Bellinger) mournful tragedy. We see no such chance, and would not be so heartless as to use it if we did.—Portage Register, Abolition.

What a tremendous amount of holy horror and sanctimonious forebearance is here manifested! No, when a Democrat is murdered in cold blood, by Abolition ruffians, for no crime, for no threats or violence, you and your besotted treason-workers cannot "be so heartless" as to see "political capital" in it! No wonder you cannot see a "chance" for such a desideratum to your waning cause—the "chance" is all on the wrong "horn of the dilemma." But did you "see any such chance" in the recent draft riot at New York? Were you troubled any about the "heartless" aspect of the affair then? Did you pause in contemplation of the mourning hearts, the murdered hosts, the gory bodies, the orphan children, caused by that horrible mob; or did you overlook those things in view of the "political capital" to be made? Democrats condemned that drama of blood—they also condemn the murder of poor Bellinger. Do Republicans take the same course with the latter mob that they did with the former? Did they "suspend judgment" (vide Milwaukee Sentinel) over the N. Y. riot, until a legal investigation? "Consistency thou art a jewel!"

Republican County Nominations.—For the sake we presume of keeping up their organization, that party made the following nominations on Saturday last:

For Assembly, Mr. M. Werner.

Register of Deeds, Hubbard Hills.

Supervisor Dist. No. 1, S. R. Willy.

We have not learned who they nominated for the other Supervisor Districts. But it is no consequence whatever, as after the election they will hardly know they were in the field at all. They stuck Mr. Werner on for Assembly without his knowledge, merely we suppose for the purpose of seeing him laid out. Wonder if Mr. Hills will express his gratitude as emphatically as he did when his party euchred him out of the nomination for the same office two years ago. The adjectives he employed then were, to say the least, emphatic. Probably they want to return the compliment and put him up to have revenge. What a shame! Mr. Jordan is too busily engaged in his lumbering at Shiocton to attend to Superintending our County Schools. Mr. Willy, we must sympathize with. He is constantly forced, we presume to be a standing candidate, must be for want of timber. Well, that reflection will tend to alleviate the natural feelings of defeat. So, Mr. Willy, you must grin and endure it, all for the good of "our party!" What do you say, Democrats, shall we shelve these gentlemen by 500 or 700 majority? The former figures would answer for all practical purposes, but it would be a good joke on them to bring up to the latter quotation.

The rebel steamer Sumter was sunk between Moultrie and Sumter a few days ago, but in what manner the Courier does not state.

The "Loyal Democratic" Convention, which met at Janesville last week, was a grand fizzle, if we are to judge from the newspaper reports. Only thirty-one self-constituted delegates, outside of Janesville, were present! But, then, they were enthusiastically unanimous! Gen. McClernand—the man whom the gallant Grant squelched—was there and unbosomed himself to the "thirty-one" old maids! They did not nominate any ticket, probably owing to the cold shoulder they received from the people generally. Poor Cha's D.! how are the mighty fallen!

For Sale.—The Oshkosh Northwestern establishment is offered for sale. A right smart chance for an opening we should think. What's up? Is Swineford knocking the pins from under you Bro. Nevitt!

Political Straws.—The Jefferson Republican, which has been an Abolition Journal of considerable standing for some time, and which recently raised the Republican State ticket, has hauled down the same and hoisted the Democratic State ticket! The proprietors remain the same, but the Editorial management will be under the exclusive supervision of J. L. Thorn.

The Whig of '76, which has been heralded broadcast by Abolition journals as a Democratic paper, and which hoisted the Lewis ticket with a grand flourish, has busted, kerflumexed, gone in! "Alas, poor Yorick!"

Post Office Robbers.—Mr. Delinger of Ripon informs us that some ten young men and boys have been arrested in that place for robbing the Post Office there, recently, and that among them are sons of the most respected families in the place. Their least punishment will be five years in State Prison. What a lesson for young men!

War News.

Washington, Sept. 22.—According to official dispatches received here, dated as late as 5 o'clock yesterday P. M., Gen. Rosecrans had information that Longstreet's corps had reinforced Bragg's before the battle of Saturday, and it was subsequently stated by deserters from the rebel army that Ewell's corps had also come to his aid.

A telegram was received here to-day from the officer in command at Chattanooga, which speaks in the most encouraging terms of the general result of the action of Saturday and Sunday, in which, according to his representations the Union army achieved a substantial success.

The enemy lost the most in killed and wounded.

A prisoner taken from Bragg's army says that Mobile has been stripped of troops for Bragg's army, and that some troops have been sent to him from Charleston. Also that troops from Lee's army were in the late fight. In fact that the whole of the Confederacy seemed to be concentrated there for that attack on Rosecrans.

A rebel dispatch has been intercepted on the extreme front of the army of the Potomac, wherein the rebel commander of the army of Northern Virginia is informed from Richmond that Bragg engaged Rosecrans on Saturday and Sunday, capturing 20 pieces of artillery and 5000 prisoners.

On Saturday, the 19, a demonstration was made by the rebels in strong force, which appears to have been repelled by the force of Gen. Thomas, with the advantage on the federal side.

On Sunday an engagement commenced late in the morning. The first gun was fired at 9 A. M., but no considerable firing took place until ten o'clock.

Previous to 10 o'clock Gen. Rosecrans rode the whole length of our line.

Soon after the battle commenced General Thomas, who had the left began to call for reinforcements. About 12 o'clock word came that he had to fall back to the second line.

Reinforcements were then sent to him, consisting of McCooks whole corps, which was on the right and as a reserve in the center. Gen. Wood, of Crittenden's corps, and Van Cleve, who held the front center, were also ordered to the left where the fury of the cannonade showed that the enemy's force was massed.

Their places were filled by Davis and Sheridan of Gen. McCook's corps, but hardly had these divisions taken their places in the line, when the rebel fire which had slackened, burst out immense volleys on the centre. This lasted about 20 minutes and then Van Cleve and Thomas' right was seen to give way, but in tolerable good order. Soon after this the line of Davis and Reynolds broke in disorder borne down by the enemy's columns which are said to have consisted of Polk's corps.—These two divisions were the only ones thrown into much disorder.

Those of Negley and Van Cleve were thrown into confusion, but soon rallied and held their places, the first on the left and the second on the right of Thomas' corps.

Davis and Sheridan, late in the day, succeeded in rallying about 8,000 of their forces and joined Thomas.

Gen. Thomas, finding himself cut off from the right, brought his divisions into position for independent fighting, his line assuming the form of a horse-shoe along the crest of a wooden ridge. He was soon joined by Granger from Rossville, with a division of Gen. McCook's and Gen. Steadman's Divisions, and with these forces firmly maintained the fight until after dark. Our troops were as immovable as the rocks they stood upon.

The enemy repeatedly hurled against them the dense columns which had routed Davis and Sheridan in the morning, but every onset was repulsed with dreadful slaughter. Failing on the first onset, then on the other point of our line the rebels for hours vainly sought to break them.

Gen Thomas seemed to have filled every soldier with his own unconquerable firmness, and Gen. Granger, his hat torn by bullets, rode like a lion wherever the combat raged thickest.

Every division commander bore himself gloriously, and among them Gens. Turchin, Hazen and Parker especially distinguished themselves. Turchin charged through the rebel lines with the bayonet, and being surrounded, forced his way back again. Parker, who had two horses shot under him on Saturday, forming his men in one line, made them lie down until the enemy was close upon him, when suddenly they rose and delivered their fire with such effect that the assailants fell back in confusion, leaving the ground covered with killed. When night fell this body of heroes stood on the same ground occupied by them in the morning, their spirits being unbroken.—Their losses are not estimated.

Gen. Thomas telegraphed on Monday forenoon that the troops are in high spirits. He brought off all his wounded. Of the sick and wounded at Crawford Springs, including our main Hospital, nearly all have been brought away.

The number of prisoners taken by the enemy will hardly surpass 2,000, besides the wounded, of whom not more than 1,000 could have fallen into their hands.

Of rebel prisoners we have sent 1,300 to Nashville.

The most of our losses in artillery were occasioned by the killing of all the horses. Gen. Thomas retired to Rossville on Sunday night after the battle had closed.

Gen. Rosecrans had issued orders for all his troops to be concentrated with the forces at Chattanooga.

In the last two assaults our troops fought with the bayonet, their ammunition being exhausted.

The last information that has reached this city is from Chattanooga last evening, and was to the effect that Gen. Rosecrans would concentrate on Chattanooga last night.

Thomas had been engaged with the enemy prior to 5 P. M. yesterday, and it was therefore questionable whether he would be able to reach Chattanooga last night.

Later.—Our losses are 8,200 killed and wounded, 2,000 prisoners, and 20 pieces of artillery. Rosecrans is being rapidly reinforced, and his prospects for maintaining his position, at Chattanooga, on the defensive, are good.—The rebel loss in officers of high rank, are very great.

New York, Sept 23.—A Charleston Harbor letter states that everything there is very quiet.

The Herald's letter says a great deal of work it being done of an important character, which cannot at present be revealed, the results of which will soon develop themselves.

Wednesday last there was a severe gale from the N. E and continued to blow with great fury until Thursday night, when it moderated and finally died away.

The tents were blown down, and their occupants compelled to remain out doors, exposed to one of the severest rain storms, I have witnessed for some time.

The tides are unusually high, and huge waves rolled far on the beach over levees of sand constructed about the camps, and completely swept down the front rows of the tents, and drowned the soldiers. Vessels in the Roads pitched and rolled violently, and many of them dragged their anchors. Fortunately none went ashore.

The Charleston Courier of the 16th has the following:

A very sad accident occurred at Battery Cheves on James Island, about ten o'clock Tuesday morning. A magazine exploded, killing five men.—We have not learned the cause of the explosion, nor how many were wounded.

Rebel batteries on James Island have been busily engaged firing on our camps, on Black Island, during the past three or four days, but had not occasioned a single casualty up to last night.

The rebels seem to be under impression that something is going on that does not promise well to their cause, as our men are silent and no guns have been fired on our side recently. It is not improbable that they are correct in their surmises, but their efforts to shell us out will signally fail to remove the cause of their fears.

As I write, Battery Gregg was rapidly shelled by Batteries Bee and Simpkin's, on Sullivan's and James' Island. No considerable number of casualties have occurred lately on this island from rebel practice, although at times it has been quite hot and well directed.

Sandy Hook, Sept. 23.—The steamship China, from Liverpool 12th, via Queenstown 13th, passed this point.

London, Sept. 12.—The government has certainly resolved to stop the steam rams in Mersey.

The Florida was detained at Brest, to satisfy the French claims.

It is positively asserted that Maximilian accepts the Mexican crown.

A Times Morris Island letter says that nothing transpired worthy of note since the date of my last letter. In fact it is not very evident that anything will occur for some weeks to come. The navy does not manifest the first sign of activity.

The feeling in regard to intervention was recently indicated, by an advance of 5 per cent. in Confederate Bonds.

St. Louis, Sept 21.—The steamer Marcella was boarded and plundered, on the 15th, at Dover Landing Lafayette county. Three soldiers of the 2d State Militia, returning home on furlough, were taken two miles into the woods and shot. The boat was not burned.

During the past week five thousand persons crossed the river at Lexington mostly refugees from the border counties.

Cass county, under Ewing's order, is mostly depopulated.

Gen. Hunter has arrived to preside over the commission to investigate the burning of the Ruth.

A Leavenworth special to the democrat states that a messenger who came into Fort Scott Wednesday night, reports Coffee at Cowstain Prarie with 1,500 men.

Quantrell had passed Ball's Mills with most of his command on his way south. It is supposed that he has gone to join Coffee.

A company of the 2d Kansas, colored, and a company of the 2d Wisconsin Cavalry are a few miles from Coffee's rendezvous.

Blunt is on his way up with a small escort.

The New Lisbon Murder.

A Full and Authentic Statement of the Facts.

Geo. Wright, Esq., a respected resident of this city, returned from New Lisbon, yesterday afternoon, with the remains of Mr. Bellinger. Mr Wright furnishes us with the following statement of facts:

He left Milwaukee for New Lisbon on Friday morning's train, for the purpose of procuring the body, and arrived there about 7 p. m. He found the body of the murdered man lying in a store house in a horribly mutilated state. With the assistance of the undertaker he proceeded at once to deposit the mangled remains in the casket. Mr. Wright then proceeded to gather all the details relating to the melancholy affair, from the citizens and eye-witnesses. For that purpose he conversed with all the leading citizens, and personally looked over the whole locality where the scene occurred. The following is a reliable and impartial statement of all the facts bearing upon the transaction.

Mr. Bellinger first met Dr. Secor, who was a previous acquaintance, at the post office early in the evening. The two walked down the street together, conversing pleasantly upon political topics, the Doctor saying that he thought Bellinger a "copperhead" and the latter returning the compliment by telling the Dr. he thought him an abolitionist. This was all said in a quiet, friendly manner.

The remark of Dr. Secor as to Bellinger being a "copperhead" was accidentally overheard by one or more soldiers passing the same way on the street. As the Dr. and Bellinger reached the locality opposite the Georgia House the two parted, Bellinger turning to go to the hotel. At this moment the soldiers approached and one soldier crowded another against Bellinger, pushing him into the gutter, and calling him a "copperhead." This was several times repeated, Bellinger making no resistance. Finally, being deeply incensed at the unprovoked ill-treatment, he said if they meant to attack him he would stand his hand with the whole company. He then left, but fearing that he would be followed up, he went up town and loaded his revolver, saying that he should shoot them if necessary to prevent another such outrageous assault upon him.

Soon after, he went into the store of Mr. Roth, a personal friend. The party of soldiers followed him in, clamoring for his arrest on the ground that he had threatened to shoot them. Mr. Roth assured the soldiers that if they would go out and let him alone, their desires should be gratified. He got the soldiers out, when to protect Bellinger from further insult or injury, he extinguished the lights and went out himself, locking Bellinger up inside alone. The soldiers not thus to be foiled, then repaired to the rear of the store and broke in, whereupon Bellinger broke the front show windows and ran for the Georgia House, pursued by the soldiers. The door being fastened, he could not get into the hotel before the soldiers caught him.

It is the unanimous belief that at this time Bellinger believed that his pursuers meant to kill him, and for this there was sufficient ground for apprehension. Bellinger was violently seized, when a struggle commenced the whole party of assailants attacking him. Bellinger drew his revolver while he was in the actual grasp of one or more of the soldiers and while struggling in vain to get away. He fired apparently at random, exploding every cap on the pistol, discharging four of the barrels, killing one and wounding three others. He was so hampered that he could not have controlled his aim had he so intended. In the terror of the moment occasioned by firing the pistol, Bellinger extricated himself and got into the hotel. The soldiers followed. By this time several of the leading citizens had come to his rescue, and, placed themselves in front of Bellinger for his protection he standing behind them. In this brief interval Bellinger seemed to realize that there was but little hope for his life. He apparently had no confidence in the power of the citizens to protect him. He stood trembling and terror-stricken and his assailants were infuriated. He hastily drew from his pockets all of his personal effects, including his watch and purse, and handed them to a personal friend. The stuggle for his protection between the citizens continued for an hour. At a critical moment during the conflict, one of the girls employed at the house nobly threw herself between the victim and the soldiers, and declared they must kill her before they killed him. At last the assailants extinguished all the lamps, seized the citizens by the feet, draging them down. Bellinger was then mercilessly dragged into the streets his head beaten with clubs and left for dead. One of them not satisfied, remarked that he would "give him another blow." Bellinger at this moment rose to his feet apparantly delirious, exclaiming "I am not yet dead?" At the same instant he struck a terrible blow at the soldier before him, felling him to the ground, and ran fifteen rods directly against a wood pile, as if blind or crazed, and fell. Here the crowd of soldiers rushed upon him and beat his brains out. His last words, uttered at the time, were: "Don't boys! O dear!"

Here he was left the citizens keeping away for about an hour, when two or three gentlemen approached and removed him to a cooper's shop, whence on Friday the body was taken to the store house where it was found. The corpse was in as presentable a shape as its mangled condition would admit.

The facts above given are stated wholly and strictly in accordance with the information received by Mr. Wright from parties present, and may be implicitly relied upon as substantially correct as to all the circumstances of this sad affair.

When the body reached the depot in this city yesterday, a large concourse of friends and citizens were present. Considerable feeling was manifested in the city yesterday among all classes of people at the wicked and wanton outrage.

Mr. Bellinger was a man of high and noble impulses, uniformly reserved but agreeable in his intercourse with his fellow-men and of good personal habits. He was not addicted to profane language nor to offensive manners in his social or political intercourse. He was last spring chosen railroad commissioner for the seventh ward unanimously, was a worthy member of one of our masonic lodges and of other associations.

Brandreth's Pills.

While Brandreth's Pills are so potent for good to diseased bodies, they are harmless as bread. The babe at the breast or the man of ripest years, and delicate females, are certain to receive an increase of health from the use of these Pills, blessed of Heaven.

It has been said by an able physician, that "this medicine always benefits and never injures." Wherein is the superlative quality. The Brandreth Pills have no power or action but upon impure humors in the blood. They seize only the impurities in and around the parts affected, all the parts involved in diseased actions are operated upon, and cleansed from all foulness, and reinforced with "life" by the wonderful curative powers contained and inherent of the most justly famed Brandreth's Pills.

Millions of People whose lives appeared to be at the last ebb, worn out by fever's consuming fires, by consumption's insidious advances, by racking torments of inflamatory rheumatism, have been cured by the use of these pills. The persons are living witnesses, and thousands are residents in every city in America. Principal Office, No. 294 Canal Street New York.

Orange Judd, of the "American Agriculturist," says of the

UNIVERSAL CLOTHES WRINGER

"A child can readily wring out a bushell of clothes in a few minutes. It is in reality a CLOTHES SAVER, A TIME SAVER and a STRENGTH SAVER. By saving of garments will alone pay a large per centage on its cost. We think the machine much more than PAYS FOR ITSELF EVERY YEAR in the saving of garments." There are several kinds, nearly all good constructions, but we consider it important that the Wringer be fitted with Cogs, otherwise a mass of garments may clog the rollers, and the pull to operate crank-shaft slip and tear the clothes, or the rollers leave from the shaft. Our own is one of the latter kind, and is as GOOD AS NEW after nearly FIVE YEARS' CONSTANT USE."

Every Wringer with Cog Wheels is Warranted in every particular.

No Wringer can be Durable without cogs and a good CANVASSER wanted in every town.

☞On receipt of the price from places where no one is selling, we will send the Wringer FREE OF EXPRESS.

Official Paper of the City and County.

APPLETON, SEPT., 26.

A Second Ulysses.

An old man of very acute physiognomy, answering to the name of Jacob Wilmot, was brought before the police court. His clothes looked as if they might have been bouget second handed, in his youthful prime, for they had suffered more from the rubs of the world than the proprietor himself.

"What business?" "None; I am a traveler."

"A vagabond, perhaps."

"You are not far from wrong; travelers and vagabonds are about the same thing. The difference is that the latter travel without money, the former without brains."

"Where have you traveled?"

"All over the continent."

"For what purpose?"

"Observation."

"What have you observed?"

"A little to commend, much to censure, and very much to laugh at."

"Humph! what do you commend?"

"A handsome woman that will stay at home, an eloquent preacher that will preach short sermons, a good writer that will not write too much, and a fool that has sense enough to hold his tongue."

"What do you censure?"

"A man who marries a girl for her fine clothing, a youth who studies law or medicine while he has the use of his hands, and people who elect a drunkard or blockhead to office."

"What do you laugh at?"

"I laugh at a man who expects his position to command that respect which his personal qualities and qualifications do not merit."

He was dismissed.

A Lawyer's Caveat.

William H. Harding, a lawyer of Lee, Mass., had the misfortune a few days since of having his marriage published in the Berkshire Eagle. To this he, lawyer like, takes exceptions. In a caveat to the editor he says:

"The report of my marriage, which I find in your issue of the 27th inst., is not quite correct: First, on the 20th of July, 1863, I kept close company with my law books; Second, I was never in Lebanon Springs in my life; Third, I never, to my knowledge, saw or heard of the Rev. E. T. Hunt; Fourth, the young lady mentioned as the bride is the wife of my brother; and, Fifth, I never was married at all—I never came within gunshot of marriage—I never wanted to get married—and finally, I never expect to get married. With the above exception your item is correct."

A recent number of the California Farmer contains an account of the discovery of paint mines near Martinez. The mine of lead of ochre substances begins about three hundred yards from the main street in Martinez, on the sea shore, and, extending to a very considerable distance along the beach, the leads going down below the bay, and extending into the banks on the shore to an indefinable terminus. The experiments already made exhibit eighty-four different tints, from the most delicate and soft shades of dove color to the brightest vermillion. It is evident there is material enough to supply the United States for a hundred years.

LOOK TO QUALITY

As a paramount consideration, reverse the rule making a low rate of premium the chief essential; for the cheapest rate is too frequently only an index of the poorest insurance.

As our rates are graduated by the law of compensation, after ample experience, the propriety of Insurance extends with equal force to the safer classes of property it does to those of a more hazardous nature. The safer the risk the lower the percentage—the greater the hazard the higher the premium. So protect your property by a good policy from the Ætna. 10tf

More Valuable than Gold!
Bryan's Life Pills.

Science has at last brought to light the true antidote of sickness, and mankind can find a refuge from sorrow, pain and disease.

By the use of BRYAN'S LIFE PILLS, those who wander in the depth of sorrow, and whose nervous temperament adds a keener anguish to every ill of life, become, as it were, blessed with a new existence. And whilst this wonderful change is effected, there is no secondary action to leave a weakness in its train or bad effects upon the mind or body.

The nervous Hypochondriac need no longer resort to Opium, Morphine, Liquors or other stimulants to drown the cares of life. BRYAN'S LIFE PILLS are a perfect substitute; they regulate the Stomach, Liver and Biliary secretions, the derangement of which is the chief cause of Nervousness, Headache, &c., and warm the cold hearted with the fire of ardent love.

The Poet is inspired with thoughts of brilliancy. The Orator with words of fire. The Soldier with indomitable courage. The Scholar with new and brilliant ideas. The Inventor with bright conceptions of discoveries.

BRYAN'S LIFE PILLS are a universal Nervine, owing no equal, overleaping the barriers of prejudice, and curing like magic, all cases of Nervousness, Emaciation, Hysteria, Low Spirits, WANT OF ENERGY AND EPILEPSY.

They are a sovereign remedy for HEADACHE, and, in fact, all diseases, no matter what their names, that have an origin in nervous derangement of the Stomach and Liver, and their march is onward to perfection.

They operate as a mild cathartic and are adapted for all ages and constitutions.

A few doses will light up the eye with brilliancy, impart a rich glow of beauty to the cheeks, fill the soul with ecstacy, and bring the beauties of the unknown world down to mortal vision.

Melancholy and gloomy anticipations are dispelled, and the demon of ennui is banished.

Loss of power and impotence yields before them as the dew before the rising sun.

Debilitated persons are renewed in strength and vigor, under their magic influences, and they are capable of almost inconceivable endurance.

They possess the power of producing sleep as peaceful as an infant, and of lulling pain like charms from the land of spirits.

Rheumatism Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, and Prostration is entirely cured by the use of them.

They are a rival to Quinine, as a general tonic and for the cure of Chills and Fever.

The pernicious habit of Opium eating and dram drinking is overcome by the use of them.

The dispirited become hopeful, the despairing happy. The nervous spring into elastic life.

The Author, and Speaker, each receive new ideas, and the pen of fact and fancy is gifted with a skill that entrances the world.

The Soldier forgets the weariness of his march, and is endowed with almost supernatural endurance.

The Mechanic is raised to the highest pinnacle of invention and discovery, and imbued with the spirit of unfailing energy.

Sold by all Druggists, in boxes, 25 cents each. And in large boxes, containing 5 small, $1 each.

They will be sent by mail, prepaid, on receipt of the money, by the proprietor,

The Early Physical Degeneracy of American People.

Just Published by Dr. A. Stone, Physician to the Troy Lung and Hygienic Institute.

A Treatise on the causes of early physical decline of American people; the cause of nervous debility, consumption and Marasmus.

This work is one of high moral tone, written in chaste yet thrilling language, and appeals directly to the moral consciousness of all parents and guardians especially, detailing scientific and reliable aids and treatment for cure. It will be sent by mail on the receipt of two (3) cent stamps.

Parents and Guardians! fail not to send and obtain this book. Young Men! fail not to send and get this book. Ladies! You too should at once secure a copy of this book.

A Word of Solemn Conscientious Advice to those who will reflect.

A class of maladies prevail to a fearful extent in the community, dooming at least 100,000 youth of both sexes annually, to an early grave. Those diseases are very imperfectly understood. Their external manifestation, or symptoms are nervous debility, relaxation and exhaustion; marasmus or wasting and consumption of the tissues of the whole body; shortness of breathing or hurried breathing on ascending a hill or flight of stairs; great palpitation of the heart; asthma, bronchitis and sore throat; great palpitation of the heart; asthma, bronchitis and sore throat; shaking of the hands and limbs; aversion to society and to business or study; dimness of eye sight, loss of memory, dizziness of the head, neuralgia, pain in various parts of the body; lumbago, dyspepsia or indigestion, &c.

Now in ninety nine cases out of every one hundred, all the above named disorders, and a host of others not named, as consumption of the lungs and that most insidious and wily form of consumption of the spinal nerves, known as Tabes Dorsales, and tabes mesenterica, have their seat and origin in diseases of the pelvis viscera.

Dr. Andrew Stone, Physician to the Troy Lung and Hygienic Institution, is now engaged in treating this class of modern maladies with the most astonishing success. The facilities of cure are sure that patients can be cured at homes, in any part of the country, from accurate descriptions of their case, by letter; and have the medicines sent by Mail or express. Printed interrogatories will be forwarded on application.

Consumption, catarrh and diseases of the throat cured as well at the home of the patients as at the Institution, by sending the cold medicated INHALING BALSAMIC VAPORS, with Inhaler and ample directions for their use, and direct correspondence.

Patients applying for interrogatives or advice, must enclose return stamps, to meet attention.

The attending physician will be found at the Institution for consultation, from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m., each day. Sunday in the forenoon. Address

Physician to the Troy Lung and Hygienic Institute, and Physician for Diseases of the Heart, Throat and Lungs, 96 Fifth Street, Troy, N. Y. 10-44y

READY RELIEF

PAIN CURED!
RADWAY'S READY RELIEF

Is the most important medical curative—for the immediate relief of the sufferer—of all varieties of PAINS, ACHES and INFIRMITIES, and the prompt cure of the sick when PAIN, either internal or external, is a constant of the disease, that has ever been discovered

IN A FEW MINUTES

After the application of the READY RELIEF externally, or its administration internally, the patient—seized with the most excruciating PAINS, ACHES, CRAMPS, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, GOUT, LUMBAGO, FEVER AND AGUE, SPASMS, SORE THROAT, INFLUENZA, DIPTHERIA, CONGESTION or INFLAMMATION, will enjoy ease and comfort.

RADWAY'S READY RELIEF

Is safer to administer, and will stop pain quicker, than all preparations of Opium, Morphine, Veratrum, Hyoscyamus, Arnica, Valerian, Chloroform or Ether, under whatever name distinguished; other Liniments, Pain Killers or Soothing Lotions, which merely suspends the feeling of pain by benumbing the receptive bodies and killing the nerves. The surgeon [illegible] Chloroform, Opium, &c., to render insensible the nerves of perception—RADWAY'S READY RELIEF [illegible] the most excruciating pain, and secures the patient the full possession of his senses. This is the only remedy [illegible] will stop pain, so quick, that is free from Opium, Morphine, or some other kindred drug, [illegible] health.

BE WISE IN TIME.

Guard against sickness. On the first indication of pain or uneasiness, if in the STOMACH or BOWELS, take a teaspoonful of the READY RELIEF in a wine glass of water. If in the LIMBS, JOINTS, HEAD, THROAT, CHEST, BACK, or other parts of the body, apply the R. R. RELIEF EXTERNALLY—in a few minutes all pain and discomfort will cease. This simple application may check up a formidable disease. It is much easier to prevent disease than to cure it.

WEALTH FOR THE POOR

HEALTH is the working man's capital. The poor cannot afford to bear the burdens of sickness or pay doctor's bills. ONE TWENTY-FIVE CENT BOTTLE OF RADWAY'S READY RELIEF will, if secured in time, quick, and enable him to resume his work without loss of time—and, if used when pain is first experienced, will stop it immediately. Keep this Remedy always in the house, and use it when you feel pain; you will not lose one day in a year by sickness.

IMPORTANT TO FARMERS

And others, residing in sparsely settled districts, where it is difficult to secure the services of a physician, RADWAY'S READY RELIEF is invaluable. It can be used with positive assurance of doing good in all cases where pain or discomfort is experienced, or if seized with INFLUENZA, DIPTHERIA, SORE THROAT, BAD COUGHS, HOARSENESS, BILIOUS CHOLIC, INFLAMMATION OF THE BOWELS, STOMACH, LUNGS, LIVER, KIDNEYS, or with SMALL POX, SCARLET FEVER, MEASLES, TYPHOID FEVER, BILIOUS FEVER, FEVER AND AGUE, or with NEURALGIA, HEAD ACHE, TIC DOLOREUX, TOOTHACHE, EAR ACHE, or with LUMBAGO, PAINS IN THE BACK or RHEUMATISM, or with DIARRHEA, CHOLERA MORBUS or DYSENTERY, or with BURNS, SCALDS or BRUISES, or with STRAINS, CRAMPS or SPASMS. The application of RADWAY'S READY RELIEF will cure you of the worst of these Complaints in a few hours.
